

my best bet as observability 3.0

active inference

AI/ML won't just be tools; they will become the core of engineering. They will redesign systems to handle complexity by learning, adapting, and optimizing on their own.

